We have used Visual Systems to design and develop a number of our in-patient bed boards. As a busy unit we require boards that are both versatile and robust: Visual Systems Ltd certainly excelled themselves in producing professionally looking White Boards. The staff at Visual Systems have been excellent in meeting our needs, and even at the last moment when changes needed to be made to the designs, they were able to meet our requirements. I would happily recommend Visual Systems to any one who is looking for a quality and reliable product.
